

Solar Eclipse Conference 2011

SEC India

Chasing the Moon's shadow across the Earth!

SPACE is proud to present the Solar Eclipse Conference 2011 (SEC India), first time in the Asia Pacific region, to be organised from December 15-17, 2011 at New Delhi, India.

(Please refer to the first announcement at: <http://www.eclipsechasers.in/secindia.html>)

SEC India aims to set a new benchmark in the eclipse chasing world, for its features, agenda, and organisation and for bringing the eclipse community closer to masses.

- This edition of the conference also tries to bring the professional and the amateur community together and strives to bring the Youth/ the Young minds closer to this community for long term learning and sharing.
- It aims to bring the possibility of linking and tie-up with government agencies, tourism boards, and network of amateur astronomer's organisations, institutions and universities in India; for the international eclipse chasing community.

The agenda of the conference is spread over three intensive days that will cover Travel, Education, Research, Science, Culture, Mythologies, Public Outreach, Pro-Am linking and Student learning possibilities.

The conference will also focus on “An Eclipse Plan” for the upcoming Total Solar Eclipse 2012 and ASE of May 2012. Also, on the agenda would be the Venus Transit of June 2012. Whether you want to observe the eclipse, photograph it, or show the eclipse to a large audience, all related aspects will be discussed to help you make definite plan.

We are sure that most of the Eclipse Chasers have already planned TLE observation of December 2012. We at SPACE would be happy to help you if any assistance or guidance is needed for the same.

Who all will be here?

Many prominent Eclipse Chasers have already confirmed their presence at the conference and many more are expected to join, in the coming days. To name a few:

- Dr. Jay Anderson: He is the first name that comes to mind of any eclipse chaser, when planning to finalize the site for eclipse viewing. He is the authority on the eclipse weather conditions and synonym to NASA.
- Prof. Dipankar Banerjee: Incharge of the “Aditya mission” and a prominent solar physicist of Indian Institute of Astrophysics, Bangalore, India.
- Mr. Sheridan Williams: A rocket scientist and a fellow of the Royal Astronomical Society and working with British Astronomical Association.
- Mr. Xavier Jubier: Famous eclipse chaser from France. His most prominent contribution to the eclipse sciences are the interactive Google maps and the eclipse circulator used by eclipse chasers worldwide.
- The confirmation of Dr. Fred Espenak, Dr. Glenn Schneider, and many prominent astronomers and eclipse chasers from India and abroad is awaited.
- The other participants will be the astronomers and educators from planetariums, school students, representatives from the astronomical associations and societies worldwide, Educationists and Teachers from the schools associated with space, Undergraduate students, Enthusiast eclipse chasers, Travel organizers, Scientific officers of all the Embassies in India and officers from the government science and technology departments.
- The conference will have the capacity for 300 participants including the speakers.
- Around 23 international participants and 60 Indian nationals have already expressed their participation.
- Special Teams of scientists and amateurs are expected from China, Sri Lanka and other Asia Pacific region countries.
